WE GAIN IN HEALTH

PUBLIC RESOURCES BELONG TO ALL CITIZENS. HEALTHCARE TOO: WE MUST CARE FOR IT AND USE IT PROPERLY SO THAT WE CAN BENEFIT FROM IT WHEN WE NEED IT.

■ Primary Care offers on-demand healthcare, scheduled or emergency, both in consultations within the healthcare centre, a rural consultation or a house visit, if necessary.

These services have the sufficient technical capacity to fully handle the most common health problems.

■ Specialised Care is offered according to each patient's characteristics and its process, in outpatient consultations, day hospitals and inpatient care.

This service supports primary care with admissions and home care, along with palliative care for terminal patients.

■ Emergency Care is provided in cases where it is necessary to attend to patients immediately.

This is done both in healthcare centres and out of them (house-visits, emergencies of any kind...) 24-hours a day.

Emergency care is provided by primary care, hospitals and services especially designed for it.

Remember that primary care centres offer emergency services for the most common cases and while hospital emergency services handle more serious cases requiring immediate actions.
